of a veteran. Because the intent of the section as a whole is to prevent the waiving of any entitlements to benefits when a veteran has been discharged as a result of a criminal act, the Board finds that the provisions of 38 C.F.R. § 3.12(a)(1) were already in effect at the time of Mr. Smith's discharge and the provisions of 38 C.F.R. § 3.12(a)(1) do not apply to him. As Mr. Smith is not entitled to the benefits in question, this argument is without merit. 16 Finally, the Board determined that claims of increased ratings should be remanded to the VA for further consideration of the case under 38 C.F.R. § 3.303. Upon review of the record before us, the Board finds that the claim for an increased rating of PTSD is still on appeal, and it is not proper for the Board to adjudicate the issue of entitlement to a TDIU on appeal from that claim because such an award would constitute an initial action under section 7105. Therefore, the claim for increased rating of PTSD will be remanded to the VA for further development and adjudication. See Heuer v. Brown, 7 Vet. App. 379 (1995). Upon remand, the VA must adjudicate the matter on the record of the Veteran's claim, and if the decision is adverse to the Veteran, the claim must be referred back to the VA for appropriate action. See Stegall v. West, 11 Vet. App. 268, 271 (1998). Conclusions The appeal is dismissed to the extent that it seeks to reopen the issue of entitlement to service connection for an acquired psychiatric disorder, to the extent that it seeks to reopen the issue of entitlement to service connection for an acquired psychiatric disorder on the basis that new and material evidence has been submitted to reopen this claim, to the extent that it seeks to reopen the issue of entitlement to service connection for a skin disorder, and to the extent that it seeks to reopen the claim of entitlement to a TDIU. The remaining issue on appeal is remanded for additional development and adjudication. ORDER The appeal is dismissed to the extent that it seeks to reopen the issue of entitlement to service connection for an acquired psychiatric disorder, to the extent that it seeks to reopen the issue of entitlement to service connection for an acquired
