In the meantime on the paper, I tried the nib turquoise and silver. Apart from a certain price, it is well installed. Without problem I compare it to the Cross and the economic nib pen of other designers. The results do not disappoint me, only the price is too high.

I would advise to the creator matte black in order not to detract from the Pencil.

Expect that the Pencil will, like it or not, revolutionize the drawing and writing on the iPad Pro. I do think that it will be difficult to keep their right serving (paper) stops. It may be that the platform Pencil so far not want to achieve, because Apple is also very careful and cautious.
